PRESIDENT EISENHOWER
Urges U.N. Police Force in Mid-East

Proposes Steps for Peaceful Economic Arab Renaissance Ike Submits 6-Point Middle East Plan to U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—President Eisenhower today set forth a sweeping six-point plan for building enduring Middle East peace—including swift creation of an emergency U.N. police force and an international economic development program.

In a dramatic personal appearance before a tense extraordinary meeting of the United Nations General Assembly, the President at the same time accused Russia—without naming the Soviet Union—of stirring up war hysteria with tactics of "ballistic blackmail."

Eisenhower laid down his proposals for peace and economic stability in a major foreign policy speech carried coast-to-coast on television and radio, and beamed around the world by the government's Voice of America radio.

He said his program would promote "a true Arab renaissance." The alternative, he asserted, is: "The danger that nations under aggressive leadership will seek to exploit man's horror of war by confronting the nations, particularly small nations, with an apparent choice between supine surrender, or war."

Again without naming Moscow, Eisenhower compared the Kremlin's conduct with someone who cries "fire" in a crowded assembly.

The President's proposed six points:

Standby U.N. Force

1. A standby United Nations peace force.

2. An Arab-run Middle East economic development loan fund and a technical assistance program, financed jointly by the Arab states, the United States and other countries, presumably including Russia.

3. A constant U.N. check to curb inflammatory propaganda broadcasts to and from the Middle East nations.

4. A U.N. study of possible controls on arms shipments to Middle East countries, including Israel, to avert an East-West munitions race in the area.

5. Unspecified new U.N. moves to guarantee Lebanon's security and independence after American troops are withdrawn.

6. An expression of U.N. determination to assure Jordan's survival as a nation, presumably by replacing British troops now there with U.N. personnel.

Tiny Kingdom Tense

Calling world attention to the tense situation in that tiny kingdom, Eisenhower warned that "indirect aggression discernible in Jordan may lead to conflicts endangering the peace." He did not fix blame for this, but said consequences of a far-reaching nature could result.

Eisenhower proposed fast general assembly action on the parts of his program dealing with the peace force, Lebanon, Jordan and the curbing of subversive propaganda. The regional economic development plan and arms control he left for handling through other U.N. machinery.

The President made it clear the Arabs first of all must agree on the regional development plan. He said:

"Should the Arab states agree on the usefulness of such a soundly organized regional institution, and should they be prepared to support it with their own resources, the United States would also be prepared to support it."

With Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on hand, Eisenhower strongly defended his decision to rush U.S. troops into Lebanon, and said against the background of Russia's bitter denunciation of that move:

World of Individuals

"This world of individual nations is not going to be controlled by any one power or group of powers...please believe me when I say that the dream of world domination by one power, or a world of conformity, is an impossible dream."

The President served notice that if necessary the U.S. again would go to the aid of a threatened country, particularly any small nation, which appeals for help within the spirit of the U.N. charter.

Eisenhower's 30-minute address to delegates from the 81 U.N. countries included no sensational surprises.

The President did not spell out the kind of police force he has in mind. But informed officials said he favors a highly mobile force of about 3,000 men, equipped with small arms only. They would be the U.N.'s first permanent police force, ready to speed to the help of any country appealing for such aid.

The force would be stationed in the capital of a threatened country, and not used to patrol frontiers as Russia proposed Tuesday.

In a clear bid for Arab support, of his plan, Eisenhower sprinkled his speech with high praise and backing for Arab nationalism. But no place did he mention leadership of that movement by President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Eisenhower said that if his Middle East peace program can be carried out, then "in a few short years we may be able to look back on the Lebanon and Jordan crisis as the beginning of a great new era of Arab history."

He said that the six parts of his plan should be acted on together as integral elements of a single, concentrated peace package.

Economic Stabilization

In dealing with economic stabilization of the Middle East, Eisenhower urged that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld consult immediately with Arab nations to find out whether agreement can be reached on creation

Gas Station Plan In Zoning Delayed

Council Seeks Public Opinion Residential Areas Would Be Re-zoned

Action on a proposal to allow construction of gasoline service stations along numbered highways in general residential districts of Salem was tabled by City Council Tuesday night until public reaction to the proposal is known.

The action was delayed in a "committee-of-the-whole" meeting of council that was called to put the city's proposed zoning ordinance into shape for passage.

Council Meets Again Aug. 19

Councilman Harold Asty moved that the action be postponed on the service station proposal until the public is informed through the newspaper that Council is considering the change. Council's next meeting is Aug. 19.

Areas which will be affected if the gas station proposal is included in the zoning ordinance are:

1. E. State St., from an alley east of Woodland Ave. to the city corporation line.

2. N. Lincoln Ave., from 3rd St. to 9th St.

3. N. Ellsworth Ave., from 3rd St. to 8th St.

4. S. Lincoln Ave., from Columbia St. to the alley extending east from Walnut St.

Preceding Mr. Asty's motion, Councilman Fred Koenreich moved that the stations be permitted on through highways in the general residential areas.

However, certain restrictions and regulations covering the construction, operation, maintenance and cleanliness of the stations would be developed by Council through a separate ordinance to insure that the stations will not detract from

'Skate' Duplicates Feat of 'Nautilus' 2nd A-Sub Crosses Pole Beneath Ice

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States staked a new claim to mastery of undersea pioneering today after a second atomic submarine had crossed under the North Pole.

The U. S. S. Skate reached the pole at 8:47 p. m. (EST) Monday—just six days after its older sister, the Nautilus, emerged from an historic 1,830-mile trip across the polar cap. The Nautilus arrived Tuesday in Portland, England, and got a big welcome.

The Navy released word of the Skate's achievement Tuesday night without any fanfare—in a two paragraph statement. This contrasted sharply with the special White House ceremony arranged last Friday to announce the Nautilus' voyage.

Surfaced In Ice Field

The bare announcement said the Skate surfaced in an ice field some 40 miles from the North Pole to radio word of the trip. The Navy said the Skate, the third U. S. atomic sub built, was continuing under-ice explorations.

The Skate's path to the pole was just the opposite from the Nautilus, which began its journey from the Pacific. The 265-foot long Skate left New London, Conn. July 30 and entered from the Atlantic.

As with the Nautilus, Navy officials did nothing to call attention to the military significance of the transpolar trips. President Eisenhower cited the Nautilus' achievement as pointing the way toward a new commercial seaway between the world's two major oceans.

Importance Made Plain

But the military importance of the feat was made plain in remarks by Sens. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) and Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.).

Bush, telling the Senate of the Skate's trip, spoke of the Navy's delivery of a "one-two punch."

Anderson said the submarines may have given the United States the means of preventing war.

"We now have vast new ocean

Ex-Governor Is Summoned By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former governor of Kansas was summoned today by Senate rackets investigators to explain his part in a congressional probe of the Tamers' Union that was mysteriously called off in 1953.

At the time, former Gov. Payne Ratner, a Republican, was counsel for the Teamsters in an inquiry by a special House subcommittee in Detroit.

Representatives Clara E. Hoffman (R-Mich.) and Wint Smith (R-Kan.), co-chairman of the subcommittee, have said that the Detroit investigation was abruptly stopped because of political pressure from high places.

But they have refused to name anyone. Just what did happen to halt the proceedings has never been explained.

The Senate Racket Committee is conducting hearings on the union and its president, James R. Hoffa.

The latest of a series of accusations against Hoffa were made by Robert Scott, former vice president of Teamsters Local 614 in Pontiac, Mich.

Scott swore that Hoffa, among other things, persuaded him to hide his brother William Hoffa from police in a Pontiac hotel in 1948. Scott also claimed the Teamsters paid $7,000 in an effort to bring back William Hoffa's runaway wife.

Hoffa insisted he couldn't recall asking Scott to hide his brother. He denied the part about his brother's wife.

United, Lisbon Districts Enlarged Board Puts O.K. On 2 School Transfers

The Columbiana County School Board made final transfers of two territories at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The territories were part of the county system but were transferred to other districts by the state school board after 75 per cent of

The Elkrunk Territory, about nine square miles on the western edge of Elkrunk Township, bonds and indebtedness was transferred to the Lisbon Exempted Village School District.

Lisbon must pay Beaver Local School District $57,743.76 with $4,516.85 due at present time for fund indebtedness. From the general fund is $123.85, cafeteria $77.59, temporary loans $380.48, salaries $2,837.20 plus a credit of $2.54 on the building fund.

Lisbon's bond share of Beaver Local's indebtedness amounts to $53,227.18.

This was arrived by taking .9656 of $511,390 which is Beaver's bond indebtedness at the present time. Payments will start June 1, 1959, for the bond and will be finished in December of 1976.

West Local District, which went to United, shows a division of 91 per cent to Minerva and nine per cent to United Local. A breakdown shows West's fund $14,896.37.

3 Killed, 3 Injured In Canton Accident

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Three persons were killed and three injured Tuesday night when their speeding automobile spun out of control on Ohio 8, south of here.

Stark County deputies said the car, carrying eight persons, skidded 90 feet on the highway before sliding into a ditch. It traveled 258 feet in the ditch, striking two culverts and overturning twice.

One victim was thrown 40 feet from the car.

The dead were identified as Carol Varga and Ronnie Salla, both 15, and Perry Drake, 20.

Still unconscious with severe head injuries this morning at Aultman Hospital was Sheron Prince, 14. The driver of the car, Cecil Hoover, 18, received only minor injuries. All are from Canton.

Hoover was arrested and will be charged with traffic manslaughter, deputies said.

Area VFW Units Win Top Honors

The groups will receive an engraved plaque in honor of their achievements Monday at the convention.

The post and auxiliary have placed in the top 10 nationally, for the past three years. In the 1955-56 contest they placed eighth. A year later, they finished in the third position. During the past year, the combined groups sponsored a total of 120 projects.

The post's commander is Frank Spellman.

Rocket To Moon Set For Sunday

Education Bill Taken Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate waded deeper into its legislative backlog today to take up a 1½-billion-dollar bill to spur U.S. education.

The House—with most of its work done for this waning session—arranged to vote on whether to cite Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine for contempt of Congress. The action stems from Goldfine's refusal to answer certain questions before a subcommittee investigating his relations with presidential aide Sherman Adams.

Provide Scholarships

The education bill before the Senate would provide college scholarships and student loans as well as measures to raise the level of teaching.

It carries 280 million dollars for four-year college scholarships of up to $1,000 a year each. It also includes 315 million dollars in student loan funds and 280 million for grants to the states to buy laboratory equipment for grade schools and high schools.

Additional millions are earmarked for institutes and training centers to improve instruction in science, mathematics and foreign languages as well as to better the teaching of general subjects.

Tax Bills Passed

The Senate passed three major tax bills Tuesday in a sudden burst of speed which somewhat brightened hopes for an early adjournment. All three bills went to conference with the House, which had passed them previously in different form.

First the Senate passed a bulky excise tax revision bill. Then, in a late night session, it finished work on an equally complex technical tax revision bill and added to it a hitherto separate measure designed to give tax relief to small business.

The excise tax revision bill would cost about 39 million dollars a year in revenue. One section, sought by the motion picture industry, would ease the 10 per cent admissions tax to exempt all portions of a ticket below $1. At present, tickets costing 90 cents or

Experts Ready Lunar Vehicle

Cape Canaveral Site Of 3-Stage Blast-Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—Informed sources said today the Air Force may make its first try at launching a moon rocket next Sunday morning.

If conditions are satisfactory, the three-stage rocket, more than 100 feet tall, may blast off from Cape Canaveral, Fla., around 7 a. m. (EST).

If it does not prove possible to launch with a half-hour's time, the attempt may be postponed to a similar brief period Monday morning. If once again a launching is impossible, the attempt may be postponed to Tuesday.

3 Favorable Days

Those are the three most favorable days this month for a moon shot. Experts say it would be possible to make still another try next Wednesday, although conditions would be marginal.

After Wednesday, the rocket specialist said, any lunar probe would have to be postponed until the middle of September. Every 28 days the orbiting patterns of the earth and moon are so aligned that conditions are favorable for a shot.

It will take 2½ days for the lunar vehicle to reach the vicinity of the moon.

Photoelectric Device

The rocket will be equipped with a photoelectric scanning device which, if it functions properly out in space, could relay closeups of the moon back to earth.

Should the probe actually orbit the moon, this television type equipment would provide the first crude photographs of the far side of the moon, the side that is never visible from earth.

The lunar probe also will carry equipment to measure the impact of particles in space and gauge the gravitational field of the earth and the moon.

A requisite for a lunar probe is an escape from the earth's gravitational field. To accomplish this the missile must attain a speed of 25,000 miles an hour.

Although the chances of a successful launching and of an escape from the earth are believed to be fairly poor, the probe also will have rockets to adjust it to the proper speed and direction to attain a lunar orbit if it gets close enough to the moon.

U.S. Scientists Had Especially Active Season

WASHINGTON (AP)—The North Pole achievements of the atomic submarines Nautilus and Skate have served to accent an especially busy season for U.S. scientific projects.

The Nautilus, the world's first atomic undersea craft, last week became the world's first vessel to cross the North Pole beneath the ice. The Skate, a smaller sub, reached the pole Monday night.

Other items on the U.S. scientific front:

BLIMP — A Navy blimp landed in South Weymouth, Mass., Tuesday after an 8,000-mile trip to the arctic. Capt. H. B. Van Gorder said the trip proved the blimp's ability to operate in the polar region under adverse conditions.

WARHEAD MISSILE — One was exploded Tuesday over Johnston Island from the U.S. nuclear testing range in the Pacific. An engineer estimated the blast occurred at a height of at least 60 miles, or about 20 miles higher than an Aug. 1 air explosion.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT MISSILE — The Army said its Talos intercepter successfully caught and theoretically destroyed the new Kingfisher target missile in a test Tuesday at the White Sands, N. M., proving grounds.

Traffic Collisions Bring Two Arrests

Two drivers were arrested by the state highway patrol after two traffic collisions Tuesday.

John Gabert, 27, of Bessemer, Pa., was arrested for improper backing after he backed his truck-trailer outfit into a car driven by Laura Stewart, 46, of RD 1, Kensington, at 10:55 a. m. yesterday.

The patrol said the accident occurred on Rt. 9, a mile north of the Carroll County line.

Ronald Fuller, 22, of 52 Oak St., East Palestine, was arrested for unsafe operations after his vehicle struck a truck driven by Francis Cashbaugh, 54, of Beaver Falls, Pa. at 5:30 p. m.

Highway patrolmen reported that the truck pulled from Springfield Rd. onto Rt. 165, two miles north of East Palestine. Fuller came over the crest of a hill too fast, passed the truck on the right to avoid oncoming traffic, and the vehicles collided.

Radiation Guard Unveiled by AEC

Streptomycin, Bone Marrow Combined

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — The possibility of a double-barreled protection against death from atomic bomb radiation was reported today.

The promising preventive — described as having achieved dramatic results in protecting mice from radiation death — consists of combining the wonder drug streptomycin with bone marrow cells, both given by injection.

Researchers Howard H. Vogel Jr. and Donn L. Jordan of the Atomic Energy Commission's Argonne National Laboratory told about it in a report to the first International Congress on Radiation Research. The congress, attended by some 700 scientists from both sides of the Iron Curtain, is being held on the campus of the University of Vermont.

Explaining that symptoms of acute radiation sickness in mammals result primarily from injury to the gastro-intestinal and to the blood-forming system, the scientists said the dual treatment appears to work this way:

The streptomycin controls generalized bacterial infections during the period of intestinal damage and thus prevents the early death usually seen in mice after exposure to heavy doses of atomic neutrons.

Then, by the 10th day after exposure, when streptomycin alone no longer offers protection, the bone marrow takes over, stimulating the blood-producing system.

The researchers said that when each of the materials was used individually, only limited protection was achieved.

However, when the two were combined there was "a dramatic protection from death."

"Fewer than 15 per cent of the neutron-irradiated mice receiving this dual treatment died within the acute 30-day period," they said, "whereas the radiation dose caused death to from 90 to 100 per cent of the untreated control mice."

Twenty-five firms have reserved space for exhibits of equipment and supplies, Floyd Lower, county extension agent, reports.

The event is expected to attract a large number of potato growers from eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. This is the first time the Eastern Ohio Potato Field Day has been held in Columbiana County for several years. Last year it was held in Wayne County.

The department said the term was too suggestive. The cast includes several noted flesh artists.

Health Department Warns of Persons Posing as Agents

LISBON — The County Health Department employs no agents authorized to inspect private septic tanks, except on investigation of complaints, Dr. C. S. Palmer said today.

Dr. Palmer said he has received reports that some scavengers seeking work have posed as health department representatives and used "blackmail tactics."

A resolution was adopted by the County Board of Health at its last monthly meeting required all licensed septic tank cleaners to display their permit numbers on both doors of the cabs of their tank-trucks, effective Friday, Dr. Palmer reminded.

This action was taken as a measure to protect the public against unscrupulous, unlicensed scavengers, who in the past posed a serious problem in the county, by identifying the equipment of legitimate operators to the public and to law enforcement officers.

The health department has received numerous reports of exorbitant charges and unsatisfactory work by some itinerant scavengers and of illegal dumping on public highways, on farms and in streams, Dr. Palmer said.

The department's regulations concern only the approval of equipment and the dumping site. The department has no control over the amount charged, Dr. Palmer said.

LINEMAN ELECTROCUTED

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Hearing a groan, Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. workers rushed to a line voltage test site behind the company's garage here Tuesday. They found the body of Sam Jenkins, 34, of Nelsonville, who had been electrocuted while testing lines.

Nations Are Losing Their Individuality

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

It was a chilling thought. I was somewhere in the Far East when this idea suddenly began taking shape. It has been haunting me ever since.

Here it is:
Are we all becoming alike? Is every nation on earth losing its special customs, culture, individuality? Are we all heading straight toward (you'll pardon the expression) togetherness?

It looks that way.
It appears that, in the not too distant future, we may be dressing more alike, eating much the same foods, living in a few standard types of houses, watching the same international TV programs, dancing the same dances, responding to the same advertisements, developing pretty much the same tastes.

Fantastic?
Of course, but look over your shoulder.

Only yesterday, a low-slung European car was so rare on the road that you stopped to stare at it. Few Americans ever heard of a vodka martini, much less tasted it. Foreign movies were confined to small, arty theaters in the big cities. Who would have dreamed that a Japanese actress would win an Oscar?

Only yesterday, Coca-Cola invaded Europe. The wine growers rocked with laughter—at first. Soon, they were yelling for government protection. Same with the Paris coiffeurs when American hair-waving gadgets began to take hold with the girls.

On Formosa, the other day, a Chinese tot had a birthday. Which gift wrecked the party? A cowboy suit with chaps and a 10-pint seltzer.

What's the newest influence in home building and interior decoration in the United States today? Japanese. Architects blend Japanese features into the ranch-style house.

These are not unrelated developments. They are part of a universal trend.

Let's look at some of its major aspects.

Take the position of women in some countries where, for centuries, they have been the inferior sex.

In Egypt, a feminist leader is agitating for their right to vote. In East Germany, a woman Communist is the minister of justice. In Japan, women hold seats in Parliament and have become business executives.

Take some changing social customs.

Communist China is edging toward birth control. On two counts, this is startling. First, it abandons the Oriental tradition of large families. More important, it quietly buries the old Marxist contention that overpopulation is an evil copyrighted by Western capitalists, something that doesn't happen in a Socialist society.

It is hardly news that rock 'n' roll has taken root all around the world, that there are native versions of Elvis Presley in other countries, that the marriage arranged by the parents is disappearing in the Orient.

Take an American psychological development.

Do you detect a tendency among young Americans to play it safe, to overvalue security and undervalue adventure, to emphasize pensions and benefits instead of opportunity in a job. European young men and women have been doing that for many years.

Take a major political current. The Communist nations constitute a bloc. As a reaction, other nations have drawn together into blocs. It is not only NATO and SEATO. You see it in the Coal and Steel Federation and Euratom in Western Europe, in the new West Indies Federation, in the Arab attempts to come together.

Thus few nations today can afford the luxury of a wholly independent foreign policy. Few can go free-wheeling along in their own way.

These are the trends. Powerful influences are at work, accelerating them by the minute.

Long ago, for example, mass communications and advertising largely erased the differences in the way people live in widely removed sections of the United States. Think of the impact on people around the world when they see each other on international TV.

Think of the impact of jet airliners, cutting travel time, making it possible for more people to go farther from home.

Even the cold war. . . . It brings thousands and thousands of people from many nations to the United States for training; they carry away with them ideas about American living methods. Vice versa, it has sent thousands of Americans abroad; they come back with discoveries they incorporate into the way they live.

Like it or not, for better or worse, we are losing our differences, becoming more and more alike.

Custom of Customs

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the greatest mistakes made by the American Indians was their failure to set up customs posts all along the coast shortly after Columbus first landed.

Had they done so they could easily have checked the mass emigration from Europe to a dribble, and they'd still own most of the continent. But, no, they chose to fight the white man with weapons instead of the law's delays—and look what happened to them!

But the custom of customs inspection has spread now throughout the world. Half the ordeal of traveling abroad today lies in going through customs—or, rather, in waiting to go through.

The elements of the situation are always the same: The customs inspector tries as long as possible to keep you from entering his country; and you try to get past him and into the country as soon as possible.

There are a few tricks, however, which veteran travelers find sometimes speed them through the barriers.

Tell the customs man you are a secret courier from Washington, D.C., sent to expedite a loan to his country. To make it more plausible, offer to lend him a buck.

If you are in France, whisper that your wife is enceinte. The French, who are crazy about motherhood, will rush her to a hospital—from which you can remove her to a hotel. If you want to attend the Folies Berger, you might even leave her in the hospital overnight.

Speaking just a few words of his native tongue is often helpful, as it shows the customs man you are really interested in his country. This doesn't work in Britain, however, where they distrust any Americans who speak English.

Never bribe a customs agent yourself to speed up his inquiry. Let your wife do it. It's cheaper. Women can always get more for less money.

Pretend you're in no real hurry. Open a bottle of wine and spread a picnic lunch. This strategem doesn't work well, however, in countries whose customs agents are poorly paid. They'll join in the feast and won't admit you to their country until the last crumb is gone.

Tell them you're a smuggler. This is admittedly a drastic step, but after all they can't take you to jail without first letting you into the country.

After you've outwitted the customs agents of half a dozen foreign countries, comes the acid test—on your return home.

All travelers since Marco Polo have agreed that the toughest part of a trip abroad lies in getting back into your own country when the trip is over.

There are more than 12,000 trailer parks in the United States.

Physical telephone plant facilities are designed so that every subscriber in the calling area of each exchange can talk to every other subscriber in that same calling area. It is as though a separate path was constructed from each subscriber to every other subscriber in the calling area of the exchange. As the number of subscribers increase the number of paths increase—but, of course, at a much faster rate. In the diagrams above count the number of paths with three and then six subscribers. This is another way of informing you that the investment per telephone increases very rapidly as additional subscribers are added to the exchange.

A Retraction and an Apology

This newspaper acknowledges an unfortunate and regrettable error in an editorial published last July 21. The editorial referred improperly to L.N.D. Wells of Dallas, Texas.

The error did not come to our attention at the time. We were not aware of it until very recently, when Mr. Wells, himself, pointed it out.

Mr. Wells is one of the three monitors named by Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts to help his court bring financial responsibility and democratic procedures to the Teamsters Union under the presidency of James R. Hoffa. The other monitors are Geoffrey P. Schmidt and Martin F. O'Donoghue.

Our editorial commented on Mr. Schmidt's report to Judge Letts that he had been offered $100,000 in the form of additional expense allowances if he would support Mr. Wells on all major issues before the three monitors.

Our error was the identification of Mr.

Wells as the source of the offer reported by Mr. Schmidt.

This was wholly without justification. The source of the offer had not been identified or speculated about in any way that could be construed as having any connection with Mr. Wells.

Nothing in the incident as reported to Judge Letts by Mr. Schmidt or as commented on by Judge Letts or any other person could have been construed as a reflection on the integrity of Mr. Wells.

We retract our erroneous statement in its entirety and apologize to Mr. Wells, and his family and friends. We apologize, also, to our readers. An incorrect reading of a single news report caused us to make a statement that had no basis in fact.

We saw no further reports through which we might have discovered our error. To this date, there has been no disclosure of the source of the offer that Mr. Schmidt told Judge Letts had been made to him.

How to Be Friends With a Bear

If the diplomats will forgive us for our inability to keep a tidy account of all their moves and countermoves, the best most of us can expect to do in our comprehension of the summit conference issue is to conclude that all parties concerned have lost interest.

Premier Khrushchev lost interest suddenly after talking things over with his partner in conspiratorial Communism, Red China's Mao Tse-tung. Prime Minister MacMillan appears to have cooled down because his Labor gaffes are getting tired of stinging him. Gen. de Gaulle, on the other hand, never warmed up to the idea. No one else had gone on record, except the United States, which was stringing along with Britain for the record, though its opposition to a summit meeting on the problems of the Middle East was no secret.

What is the trouble?

There can be no agreement on purpose.

Those who want a summit meeting — any summit meeting anywhere — are positive that the way to be friends with a bear is to be friendly and maintain close contact, to disarm him of his fears and forebodings.

They are positive that the only way to coexist with a bear is by winning its friendship, because the alternative is to incur its enmity — and no one can coexist with a bear on that basis.

Therefore, they want a summit conference for the sake of what friendship and agreement might come out of it. They have implicit confidence in the good effects of man-to-man talk — the round-table formula.

But there is no reason to believe this point of view is shared by the Soviet Union, which never has felt and does not feel now like a bear that is disposed to be friendly. Its fears and forebodings are not accidental but premeditated. It is not interested in the least in getting rid of them, because the only co-existence it thinks about officially is the kind that would have the Russian bear holding a chain attached to the collar of the Western World, which would be dancing to a melody by Profokiev.

Therefore, the reason there is going to be no summit conference is because the purposes of having one are diametrically opposed. This is the reason there will be no all-star exhibition by the United Nations Security Council, either. There probably will be a meeting of the U. N. General Assembly to let everybody down easy and keep everybody talking as long as there is danger of shooting.

But it has been conceded the hard way that there is no good purpose to be served by trying to reconcile conspiratorial Communism with the aims of governments that resent conspiracies to overthrow them. Since this has been the split between the Communists and their intended victims since they set up in business in the 19th century, it is something less than sensational that it still exists.

The bear does not want to be friendly.

Strong Cultural Ties

The big question about cultural relations between the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics still has not been answered.

What happens if Americans and Russians learn to love and respect each other in the arts, sciences, crafts and physical skills but their politicians still get into squabbles whenever they cross paths?

In different words, what good will it do to strengthen cultural ties between the two countries if their political chiefs cannot get together?

There is every good reason to believe Americans and Russians are making giant strides in the improvement of their cultural relations. The Russians are enthusiastic about our piano players, and we are enthusiastic about their dancers. We are pop-eyed with amazement at the feats of some of their athletes, and they are green with envy about the accomplishments of some of our athletes.

Americans and Russians seem able to get along like good companions everywhere, except the one place that counts — in international politics. Their young people, particularly, are without the handicap of barriers. A Russian student delegation recently sat down with a U.S. delegation the other day and talked frankly for hours about such things as the de-Stalinization of schools in Russia and the desegregation of schools in the United States.

There is no reason to doubt that Americans and Russians can get along together as people. But there continues to be every reason to doubt that their governments will be able to get along together under any set of foreseeable circumstances.

By H. I. Phillips

A MAN HIT BY A BUS has sued twice. Probably afraid it will come back.

More Americans were in prison this past year than ever before. Federal Bureau reports. This upsets growing belief they are harder than ever to get into.

A week ago 22,500 crowded into Lewisohn Stadium to hear Van Cliburn, with 8,000 listening outside. When a piano player can do this he has something besides a piano.

A wife jumped out of auto going 50 miles an hour, after argument with husband. This just goes to show that some couples should never go out together without safety belts.

The female knee is in a state of uncertainty again. One top European style king has decided to make skirts longer. Two others will stick to short modes. It is hard to tell which way a hemline will jump these days, and the Do-It-Yourself League of Hem-Shorteners is highly distressed.

Today, one is scarcely able to distinguish flying saucers from Secretary Dulles. How can Foster claim he is a statesman who keeps his feet on the ground? He is in the air so much he should be checked overhauled and tuned up at the airfield the same as planes are.

Gov. Meyner of New Jersey has signed a bill cracking down on growing tendency of super stores, especially cut-rate places, to remain open on Sunday. . . Connecticut is considering a law of a similar nature to end "desecration of America's patriotic holidays" on Fourth of July, Memorial Day and Washington's Birthday.

"Russia Took Shot at Moon But Failed"—Headline. It may go far with the moon for not standing still.

Khrushchev's sudden trip to China puzzles many. It wasn't to get a recipe for chow mein or try out tea with a vodka base.

We have a theme song for any Big Four session: "In the good old SUMMIT time." (The Associated Newspapers)

Khrushchev's Flip-Flops

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are frightening overtones in the way Nikita Khrushchev rushed into a summit meeting and then backed off. Stalin was predictable. Not Khrushchev.

He's mercurial and, apparently, impulsive—a dangerous and ominous weakness in a head of state. The evidence indicated he agreed on impulse to a summit meeting from which, on second thought, he flip-flopped his way out.

If he can be impulsive on something like that — which probably wouldn't have amounted to much — it seems fair to assume on something else, like a step leading to war, he might be impulsive again.

Stalin followed a simple rule: grab what he could; push where he thought he could get away with it; test the West for soft spots. He was consistent in this—and in his avoidance of innovations—until he died.

Khrushchev—except for imitating Stalin in getting rid of his rivals—has followed a different line. He's an innovator, an experimenter. But in doing so he has established a pattern of flip-flops, something Stalin didn't do.

The result: Khrushchev is not only unpredictable but, from the standpoint of the rest of the world, unreliable. Some examples:

After Stalin's death, he denounced and repudiated the old dictator. Later he took trouble to patch up the old man's image. He switched to a softer Soviet foreign line: saying there were different roads to socialism. What happened?

A series of flip-flops. He made his humble pilgrimage to Yugoslavia to woo back the alienated Marshal Tito. This failed and he turned on Tito.

Hungary took advantage of the softer Soviet line and revolted. He crushed this in blood and abandoned the line. He warned the other satellites to expect the same if they tried tricks. This was a complete swing-around back to the rule of terror.

None of this is intended to deny his shrewdness, of which he's shown plenty. By abandoning Stalin's horror tactics towards neutrals, and substituting economic help and propaganda, he's made progress where Stalin never did. Example: the Mideast.

But now many people are attributing Khrushchev's final refusal to meet at the summit to Red Chinese pressure. No doubt it was a factor. But there were others. An examination of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev letter exchanges tells a revealing story.

On July Khrushchev proposed the summit meeting outside the United Nations. On July 22 President Eisenhower accepted but wanted it in the U. N. Security Council. Khrushchev fired back an acceptance the next day.

This writer suggests the speed with which he acted shows he did so impulsively, without thinking through what Eisenhower suggested or what the consequences might be. For these reasons:

1 He might have guessed Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, not anxious for the meeting, might follow up with conditions he wouldn't or couldn't accept.

2 Except on some major matter—where he might use a veto—he figured to be overwhelmingly outvoted in the Council, which is loaded with American friends.

3. At a meeting in the Council he might have to sit down with the one man above all others with whom it would be awkward to meet: Chiang Kai-shek.

Chiang's Nationalist Chinese have a permanent seat on the Council. Khrushchev has reviled Chiang, whose seat is claimed by Red China.

His sitting down in discussion with Chiang could not help but anger Red China.

These points apparently began to sink in when Eisenhower sent his next letter, laying down conditions for a meeting in the Council. Then Khrushchev wrote a letter—which many people now seem to forget—almost refusing to meet in the Council.

He indicated he had second thoughts and wanted the meeting outside the U. N. Then he rushed off to Peiping, where the Chinese Reds must have given him a piece of their mind about his sitting down with Chiang. That settled it.

He made his flip-flop complete by calling off the meeting altogether.

Recognition of Iraq

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Khrushchev Has Misconstrued America's Action

Did the United States, by according diplomatic recognition to the new government in Iraq, give its approval to the murder of the King and the installation of a successor regime by military force?

Nikita Khrushchev thinks it did. But the Department of State emphatically disagrees.

Khrushchev deliberately misconstrued America's action in recognizing the new government in Iraq. He wrote in his last letter to President Eisenhower:

"Now the United States and other Western powers have recognized the republican government of Iraq. Consequently, you and your allies have admitted that the Iraqi people had the right to change the existing regime. Thus, your assertions about some kind of an indirect aggression have no foundation."

But the United States has never said that the people of any country do not have the right to change their own government by revolution. What it has said repeatedly — and what Khrushchev conveniently ignores — is that it must be the action of the people in setting up a government and no some foreign government furnishing men, arms and ammunition for the purpose of aiding a faction whose leaders have been hired for the purpose by that same foreign government.

THE UNITED STATES

has take note of the record of the monitored broadcasts of the radio stations in Baghdad controlled by the new Iraqi government and has compared it with what was being said by the same station under the preceding regime.

It reveals that the incoming government on several occasions has been far more interested in expressing hostility toward the West issues.

Moscow, by its immediate extension of recognition the very same week the Iraq revolution occurred, showed that it did not have to wait to find out if it had an ally. The Soviet government knew, because its agents were in on the deal from the beginning.

The State Department never-the less decided to resume diplomatic representation in Baghdad as a matter of convenience in gathering information firsthand and to afford the new regime a chance to prove by its deeds and its broadcasts that it is not antagonistic to the West. Also, America asked for and obtained assurances that international obligations would be honored.

Recognition can, of course, be withdrawn at any moment that American lives and property should be jeopardized in Iraq. For the uniform action of the Western allies in extending recognition to the Baghdad regime was simply a decision based on the exigencies of the moment.

It implies neither approval nor disapproval of the existing government. It's a policy of "wait and see."

If, in time, the Iraqi government proves to be a tool of Moscow and a disturber of the peace in the Middle East, the people of Iraq may be appealing for Western military assistance in their struggle against domination by Cairo and Moscow. In that event, the whole "recognition" picture would change overnight.

The case of Iraq differs entirely from that of Red China. In the latter instance, serious international aspects are involved — virtually a state of war in the Far East.

THERE IS an armistice in Korea which has been repeatedly violated by the Peiping government in moving additional planes into North Korea.

America's military forces are still stationed in Korea to carry out a United Nations directive. A U. N. resolution has denounced Red China's government as an "aggressor."

The State Department has just released a lengthy document explaining again its reasons for not recognizing the Red China regime. It says:

"The Korean conflict was the first and most important effort to halt aggression through collective action in the United Nations. For Communist China, one of the parties against which the effort of the United Nations was directed, to be seated in the United Nations while still unpurged of its aggression and defying the will of the United Nations in Korea, would amount to a confession of failure on the part of the United Nations and would greatly reduce the prospects for future successful action by the United Nations against aggression."

Recognition is, indeed, an instrument of national policy. Great Britain and some other governments recognized Peiping before the Korean War took place but, with the exception of pro-Communist regimes in Europe and Asia or those that have some political affinity for Moscow, none of the other governments has extended recognition to Red China's government since the United Nations intervened in Korea in 1950.

If a principle of moral force is swept aside — as would be the case if Red China were given American recognition — aggression would be rewarded, instead of being punished and the cause of world peace would suffer a setback.

Overseas Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The American businessman as well as the American diplomat is spreading the story of our type of economy to counteract the Soviet words and rubles drive.

The debate under way today in the U. N. General Assembly shows our diplomats aren't universally approved abroad, American business has had its sad times abroad.

But in recent years there have been sharp changes in American business practices overseas.

On the propaganda front a number of U. S. business organizations are in there pitching.

On the more subtle personal relations front, many U. S. corporations are trying to better understanding with their foreign hosts or customers.

In a direct challenge to Soviet propaganda against the so-called evils of capitalism as practiced here and abroad, the Advertising Council has waged a campaign to sell the world on the merits of what it calls "the people's capitalism."

More recently it has launched a drive to convince Americans as well as others that under our system the future of this country is economically bright indeed.

The National Foreign Trade Council has tackled specific practices and urged changes in both our policies and those of other lands if the American investor is to increase his holdings further. These sums have more than doubled since the war and now are around 25 billion dollars.

American corporations are still widely assailed by the Soviet as exploiters of the foreign lands they have helped develop. But whatever may have been the motives of the previous century in tapping resources abroad, today's corporations are quite a different breed.

Sitting nervously on the sidelines as the U. N. debates the Middle East struggle are American oil companies with huge stakes there. These firms long ago adopted there, in Venezuela and elsewhere, a plan whereby by the proceeds were split 50-50 with the country where they found oil. Some newcomers of late have sweetened this take for the host nation.

The oil companies, in preaching the American doctrine, have set up model towns with schools and hospitals, hired natives at good pay and helped raise the standard of living of many other lands.

Big American automobile companies have opened plants abroad. A chief reason naturally was to take advantage of special production, distribution and foreign exchange benefits. But a big side-line has been the raising of standards of living of other lands and a brushing off of some of the American doctrine that U. S. business can produce without exploitation.

2,000 Attend Romanian Day

14 Groups From 3 States Meet Here

More than 2,000 Romanians gathered at Copacia Lake Sunday in observance of Romanian Day. Fourteen societies from West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Ohio were represented.

The group voted a donation of $100 to each of the following: Kent State University for its scholarship fund; Pittsburgh University to help maintain the Romanian Room, where Romanian culture is displayed; to the Societies' Old Age Fund; to the Junior Organizations; and to the local American Legion Quaker City Band fund for its trip to Chicago to defend its national championship title.

The ninth annual get-together of the 14 societies opened with church services at the lake conducted by the Rev. Vintila Traian of Warren. A trio from the local Romanian Church provided vocal numbers. Congressman Wayne L. Hays attended the church service.

Romanian radio stars from Cleveland and members of the junior organization presented a program of music following the worship service.

Barbecue Dinner Enjoyed

A barbecue dinner was served by women from the Salem, Niles, Warren, Cleveland, Canton, Youngstown, Hubbard and McDonald Romanian Ladies Auxiliaries.

Leo Copacia, general chairman, introduced Chester M. Brautigam, director of the Quaker City Band, and he told the audience of the band's plans to defend its national championship title at the American Legion Convention Sept. 1 in Chicago. Numbers by the band were enthusiastically received by the audience whose contributions totaled more than $70. The additional sum of $30 was pledged by several others in the local society.

Speeches were given by Congressman Hays, Attorney George Cracun of Warren, Mayor Harold Smith of Salem, Don Gosney of Columbiana, and George Dobria, Pete Nicor and Pete Lucucci, all of Cleveland, president, secretary and business manager, respectively, of the National Romanian Society.

Moga's Band from Cleveland and the Rogers Brothers Orchestra from Alliance provided the music for dancing in the afternoon. Mary Stan of Warren was named winner of a contest for those who appeared in native costumes.

Nick Buta headed the dinner committee comprised of John Stojta, Nick Orashan, Earl Sulea and Constantine Conja. They were assisted by John Balan, Nick Solomon, Daniel Komisa, Nick Costa, Joe Sankovich, John Dicu and James Gurela.

Women from the local society who assisted with the dinner are Mrs. Leo Copacia, Mrs. Miron Oana, Mrs. John Oana, Mrs. Matt Oana, Mrs. Florence Staniciu, Mrs. Nick Cosma and Mrs. Robert Whitehill.

He is confined to the county jail in lieu of bond.

Zoning

the appearance of a neighborhood, or be a nuisance.

Council further stipulated that the Zoning Board will control the number of stations to be built. Public need will have to be established for a station before it could be built.

If the proposal is incorporated into the city's zoning laws, it will enable service stations to be constructed in four of the six zoning districts.

Stations are already permitted in the commercial, industrial, and business districts.

Council, at a meeting July 8, decided to allow stations in the business district.

In the original copy of the ordinance, designed by Michael Baker, Inc., civil engineers, new stations were to be allowed only in the commercial and industrial zones.

Consequently, stations would be confined to the downtown and western section of Salem without allowance for constructions of new stations in the residential areas in the northern and eastern sections of town.

The city would be deprived of tax revenue from service stations located outside the city, it was pointed out.

Leniency Is Urged

Two Salem attorneys have sought additional leniency toward the construction of new stations ever since a public hearing held on the zoning ordinance in June.

George Bowman, attorney for the Sinclair Oil Co., asked council to re-classify a section of N. Lincoln Ave. from 3rd to 5th Sts. in the business zone, or allow stations in certain portions of the general residential districts.

Either change would allow his client to build a new service station on a vacant lot at the intersection of 5th and Lincoln. The attorney presented a petition from seven of the 10 residents of the area stating the desire that the area be zoned business.

Last night he presented a petition from the Salem Planning Commission which also recommend the zoning in the two block area be changed. Real estate dealers back the change, it was stressed.

Atty. Bowman told Council that 10 of the 20 properties fronting N. Lincoln in those blocks are currently used for business purposes.

A majority of the residents, he said, desires the area to be zoned as business because their properties would be worth more as business property, rather than residential.

Nathan Harris, of 489 N. Lincoln Ave., has appeared at several Council meetings, opposing the change. He cited a possible traffic hazard if another service station locates in the area.

Atty. Lozier Caplan representing the Petroleum Institution of Ohio, (an organization composed of the leading oil companies in the state) has also appeared at several meetings to request the service station change.

Superintendents Confer

The division for West was made at a meeting Tuesday and included County Superintendent Thomas Knapp of Stark County, Superintendent Haskell Pauldin of Minerva, Superintendent Dale Gates of United Local and County Superintendent James L. McBride.

McBride said he submitted the figures to Lisbon school superintendent Loren Early at noon Aug. 5 but has received no answer from Mr. Early or the Lisbon board.

Other business at last night's meeting, Paul Talbott of the Hill Crest district, that wishes to go to the Wellsville school district, asked the county board if it gave the new southern district a copy of the attorney General's opinion on the legality of the new district.

The board advised him just verbal information was given to the Southern district board and nothing in writing.

Hearing Set Aug. 26

The Attorney General's opinion is that the new southern district is not legal. Prosecutor G. William Brokaw's opinion is that it is legal regardless which way the Hillcrest Territory goes.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard will rule on a motion Aug. 26 on allowing a new trial on newly-discovered evidence.

His ruling previously was that Hillcrest had the necessary 75 percent and that the county board should either transfer or appeal to the State Board of Education for their final action. This was never done, pending the hearing for the new trial.

Mr. Talbott also questioned the Board meeting procedure.

His opinion was that any person coming to the meeting would have to wait a full month to voice any criticisms because they wouldn't have heard all the meeting before they started to speak.

Board member Donald Elliott said that the board copied after the state board and the school board association. He felt that the county board should be able to conduct its meetings without any interruptions after public participation.

McBride sent a letter to all schools in the county in reference to the county board's recommendation of having all pupils entering school vaccinated and immunized before they can be admitted.

This is a recommendation and all local schools have final word on this. Last year some students were not admitted and some parents caused trouble. In a few cases, the juvenile court had to intervene.

Mr. McBride said he sent letters to all the schools in the county on setting up a film library. The county office would take care of the distribution of the films. In this manner, the schools would have a large selection of films for a small investment. At last night's meeting he has heard from only Leetonia and Columbiana and could not report on the outcome.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health Commissioner, is setting up a schedule for physical examinations for school bus drivers in the county schools.

The county board hired Mrs. June Ingraham for a two-year term as county office clerk.

The board also authorized the attendance of Mr. McBride to the convention of Rural Area and County Superintendents' National meeting to be held Oct. 12-15 in Minneapolis.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 16 at 8 p.m. Harry Greenwood was absent from last night's meeting.

Gromyko Gets Jump

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko got the jump on the United States Tuesday by submitting a resolution calling for immediate withdrawal of U. S. forces from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan, for expansion of the U.N. observer groups in Lebanon and for establishment of a similar unit in Jordan.

Observers were surprised at the mild tone of the Soviet resolution, which omitted the usual aggression charges.

Informants said Secretary of State Dulles considered the Soviet proposal encouraging, but felt it was unacceptable to the United States because it implied that current Middle East tension resulted from British and American intervention.

Dulles met with Gromyko on the Middle East situation. It was understood the American secretary hoped to determine whether the Soviet Union was ready to call off the indirect aggression which Dulles charges the Communists are using to push their influence in the Middle East.

The British were understood to feel that the Soviet resolution was moderate, but that Britain and the United States already had offered to pull out their forces provided some U.N. substitute could be arranged.

The British reportedly feel that the U.N. role proposed by the Soviet Union does not go far enough and makes no provision for preserving the territorial integrity of Lebanon and Jordan.

The Soviet proposal is expected to win strong support from the 28-nation Asian-African group.

Marines Begin Loading Ships For Evacuation

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A token withdrawal of U.S. Marines from Lebanon began today a few hours before Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was to demand in the U.N. General Assembly that all 15,000 American troops pull out at once.

The 1,700 men of the 2nd Marine Division's 2nd Battalion worked barebacked in the blazing sun to load ammunition and heavy equipment on ships of the 6th Fleet. The battalion was the first to land July 15 at the request of President Camille Chamoun to bolster his pro-Western regime after the Iraqi coup.

Loading of heavy equipment was scheduled to be completed Thursday. The men will finish going aboard ship Friday.

The other Marines and Army troops continued peaceful patrols around Beirut. There was no indication when they might leave.

Only a handful of Lebanese watched as the 2nd Battalion put its gear on landing craft for transport to 6th Fleet ships in the harbor. When the Marines landed 29 days ago crowds of Beirut residents turned out but now they had gotten used to seeing the Leather-necks.

One group of Lebanese dropped unsigned leaflets on the north beach saying: "Yankees go home. We swear we will not stop short of anything, even death, if American soldiers are not withdrawn from our country in the shortest time."

The Marines themselves weren't worried about the internal political struggle that brought them here. "We never did figure out the local politics and don't care anything about it either," said T.Sgt. Glenn Johnson, Light, Ark. "Marines are Marines."

The Virgin Islands are the easternmost possession of the United States; Guam is the westernmost.

Army Watching Beirut Hillside

Rebel Forces Camp On Rocky Ridges

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Reconnaissance units of the U. S. Army keep a constant watch on rocky ridges beyond which the mysterious forces of rebel leader Jamal Jumblatt make their camps.

The American watchers work with helicopters, jeeps and on foot. The blue Mediterranean glitters about four miles away. They get down to the beach about once every three days to swim off the dust that goes with soldiering.

They are no looking for trouble and have not had any. Like the cavalry of old they are the eyes of the Army. They should be among the first to know if the present uneasy truce in Lebanon breaks down.

In the most advanced position of all, members of Troop C, an airborne reconnaissance unit of the 17th Cavalry, are dug in snugly. Working with Lebanese security troops and patrolling on their own, they keep track of any disturbances in rebel territory.

Maj. Oran K. Henderson of Indianapolis, the commander, said: "According to our information Jumblatt's army has about 35 per cent local people from his own area in its ranks with the other 65 per cent being what we call strangers. These are said to be Lebanese from other parts of the country, Syrians and even Egyptians."

"Jumblatt, who is even respected by his opponents, can keep the local people in his army from starting the shooting again. His control over the strangers is questionable, however; that is why we are here to keep a watch on things."

"There has been little to report from here since the recent election of Gen. Fuad Chehab as Lebanese president," said Lt. Douglas Fingles, Storrs, Conn. "Before that there used to be some noise in the hills but nobody seemed to be shooting at us."

Fingles commands the outfit's reconnaissance platoon.

less are exempt. But if the price is higher than that, the tax must be paid on the full amount. This provision is not in the House bill.

Close Some Loopholes

The technical tax revision bill would close some loopholes in present law. But it also contains benefits for various groups.

The Senate version would give couples living on pensions an additional tax cut of up to $240 a year. This is not in the House bill.

It also would permit all newspapers and magazines to spread subscription income for tax purposes over the period the subscription runs. Some of them now must pay tax on that income in the year received.

The small business tax measure, added to the technical bill, is estimated to give 250 million dollars of annual relief to small firms. The chief provision would permit a faster tax write off on new and used equipment bought by the concerns.

Headed for Senate action soon was a $3,594,944,978 catch-all supplemental money bill approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee. Among other things, it contains $2,665,289,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Bucs Bomb Braves 10-0 to Take Over 2nd Spot In NL

Rookie Blanks Champs Allowing But Two Hits

Just when Milwaukee's world champs looked to have that National League pennant race under control, up pops Pittsburgh.

The Pirates, usually stone cold dead at this stage, ran their winning spurt to six games, took over second place and trimmed Milwaukee's lead to five games Tuesday night by beating the Braves 10-0.

Rookie right-hander George Witt blanked the champs on two hits, although it wasn't as easy as it sounds. It was his first major league shutout and gave the Bucs a sweep of the two-game series at Pittsburgh.

St. Louis skidded San Francisco to third by beating the Giants 7-3. Cincinnati belted Philadelphia 12-4 and the Chicago Cubs smacked Los Angeles 9-3.

In the American League, the New York Yankees rapped Baltimore 7-2, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 4-1 and Detroit beat Kansas City 7-6.

Witt had to struggle for his sixth victory until Frank Thomas unloaded his 29th homer with man on in the sixth off loser Bob Rush. The Bucs then put it away with eight in the eighth. Witt had little trouble with the Braves after the second inning, but the second was a pip.

Frank Torre lifted a pop fly to left that fell for a double and the Braves' first hit when Bob Skinner lost it in the lights. Then Witt who walked four, hit Johnny Logan with a pitch, loading the bases with one out. Rush then bunted, Witt scooped up the ball and flipped to catcher Danny Kravitz for a home-to-first double play.

That's all the Braves managed against Witt, who has lost two, until Hank Aaron doubled with two out in the ninth.

The Bucs sent 12 men to bat in the big eighth. Thomas drove in his third run with a double, and Skinner tripled home two.

The Cards made it eight out of nine by overcoming a 3-2 Giants lead with a pair of unearned runs in the seventh. Sam Jones won his 10th, fanning seven but walking eight while matching loser Mike McCormick's six-hit job.

Jim Bolger hit a two-run triple and Lee Walls socked a two-run homer as the Cubs scored five runs in the third at Los Angeles. Walls also hit a solo homer in the ninth, his 23rd of the season. Dick Drott won his fifth, giving up Gil Hodges' two-run, 16th homer in the fourth. Danny McDevitt (1-5) lost it.

The Redlegs bagged it with a six-run sixth, capped by Bob Thurman's three-run double, at Philadelphia. Tom Acker gave up eight hits for his first victory. He had a three-hit shutout until the seventh, when Chico Fernandez hit a two-run double. Wally Post hit a two-run pinch homer in the ninth for the Phils, while Frank Robinson hit his 21st homer for the Reds.

Pirate On 6-Game Win Skein In Beginning Long Road Trip

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Manager Danny Murtaugh would like nothing better than to take a ballpark full of Pittsburgh Pirate fans on the 19-game road trip that starts today.

But he wouldn't swap George Witt for even that much help. Not after the red-haired young right-hander's pitching feat of handcuffing Milwaukee Tuesday night.

"The Forbes Field crowds help us play better ball," said Murtaugh after the Pirates crushed the National League - leading Braves 10-0 before 36,867 cheering fans. The victory moved the Pirates to within five games of the Braves.

The Pirates have won 16 of the last 18 games at Forbes Field, including all six of the short home stand.

Pittsburgh has copped 17 of its last 22 games and is riding a six-game winning streak, including the two-game sweep over the Braves.

The Pirates open the road trip tonight against the Philadelphia Phillies, then return to Forbes Field Sept. 1 for an 18-day home stand.

"We're looking at this road trip optimistically," Danny said. "It's going to be rough. Any road trip is tough. A loyal crowd helps the home club."

"If we're within striking distance of the pennant when we come back, you'll have to concede us a chance. Nobody is surrendering to Milwaukee."

Witt handcuffed the Braves on two hits—just missing a no-hitter—for his sixth triumph and second straight shutout. He has lost two.

"It was mixing them up pretty even," Witt said. "Fast balls and curves. I don't take much of a windup. I just sort of try and step into the pitch. It helps my control and saves energy."

Chick Morgans, The Imperials, Starks Victors

The Imperials buried the Carpeteers 9-4-8, Chick Morgans edged out Freddy Frats 4-0 and Stark's beat Muck's 52-34 in a trio of summer cage league games played Tuesday night at Centennial Park.

The Imperials, the loop's most productive point producers, had no trouble in rolling over its opponent. They led 40-8 after 15 minutes and were in front 48-16 at the intermission.

Dandy Dick Beall kept his league scoring mark in tact with 22-point performance to pace his club. Bill Shuster followed with 18 while Mark Fenton had 16.

Bob Kupka and Hookey each had 12 for the losers while P. Paster had 10.

Morgans trailed most of the games against Frats. They trailed by four points with six minutes to go but managed to pull it out in the last four minutes.

Frats led 18-16 at the half. The Warren aggregation was led by Denny Palmer's 16 points while Wayne Palmer, Art Hawes and Ron Edwards had eight each.

Jim Fife with 16, Dale Middeker with 10 and Todd with eight led the losers.

Ken Bosu hooped 16 tallies while Hanna had 14 and Hirsh 12 as Starks beat Mucks.

Vaughan Harshman led the losers with eight while Everett, Catios, Martin and Scullion rimmed a half dozen each.

Leases have been dropped from the league because of forfeit. Their scheduled Thursday 8 p.m. game with Morgans has been ruled out with Morgans the winner.

Thursday's original 9 p.m. game between the Mergatroids and the Carpeteers has been moved up to 8 p.m.

The season's final games are as follows:
THURSDAY
7, Burriers vs. Tri-C
8, Mergatroids vs. Carpeteers.
MONDAY
7, Burriers vs. Mergatroids.
8, Tri-C vs. Morgans.
9, Starks vs. Carpeteers.

College All-Stars to Have Four Quarterbacks Ready For Detroit

CHICAGO (AP)—Will it be King Hill of Rice, Ray Brown of Mississippi, Tom Forrestal of Navy or Jim Ninowski of Michigan State?

That's the lineup of All-Star quarterbacks for the big game against Detroit's Lions Friday night at Soldier Field.

If the All-Stars hope to win, they'll need a sharp field general.

Otto Graham, former Northwestern University star and later the quarterback who led the Cleveland Browns to numerous professional football titles, has not announced his starting lineup.

But it's a good bet that Hill will be the quarterback. If not Hill, then it's anyone's guess. Graham says he'll play a wide-open game which, at best, means a lot of passing.

"You can't run through the pros," says Graham.

The All-Stars have a line that averages 234 pounds from tackle to tackle. They're well fortified up front and have the horses, if needed, in the backfield.

But since Graham is the coach, and he knows what it takes to beat the pros, he'll probably have his quarterbacks pitching to his backfields.

Graham is satisfied with his team's showing in drills and insists that it take a lot of desire to beat the champion of the National Football League.

"The pros should win," says Otto, but somehow, somewhere, lurks the idea that his All-Stars might surprise the Lions in the 25th anniversary of the contest.

The game will be broadcast and televised nationally by ABC at 8:30 p. m., EST.

DALLAS (AP) — What about the sucker shift when a team tries to run for the two points this fall?

Abe Curtis, assistant executive secretary and supervisor of officials in the Southwest Conference, has broached the subject.

Curtis said the members of the rules committee hadn't thought about it when they passed the new rule allowing a team to run or pass for two points after a touchdown.

"If a team that has been using one offense during a game suddenly shifts into another formation after lining up for the point try, I won't say it's illegal," said Curtis. "But that team would be strongly suspected."

The veteran official added that "if the other team is suckered (jumps offense), the offensive team gets the ball on the 1-yard line. Heck, anyone can make one yard."

Bricker-Bricker Win 12-4 In 'G' Contest
A total of 29 men struck out as Bricker-Bricker defeated Team Eight 12-4 in a Class G hot stove league game Tuesday night.

Gary Cosgrove, the winner, whiffed 15 while the loser, John Steele, fanned 14.

Mark Annis of TeTam 8 and Jim Garrett of the winners both homered.

Team 8 out-hit their foe five to four but its seven errors paved the way for their downfall.

Richmond, Calif. — Luke Easter, 138, San Francisco, and Buddy McDonald, 143%, Edmonton, Canada drew 10.

Mantle Hits 33rd, Raises Mark To .308 As Yanks Beat Orioles

A healthy Mickey Mantle, finally busting into the American League lead, suddenly has a shot at joining Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx and Ralph Kiner as the only sluggers ever to hit 50 or more home runs in one season.

The Oklahoma strong boy needs 17 in 41 games for 50. But he's come a long way after a sour spring. He's hit 29 since June 1. He broke loose from a tie with Boston's Jackie Jensen and Washington's Roy Sievers Tuesday by hitting his 33rd as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 7-2.

Jensen and Sievers, the defending champ, remained tied at 32 when Boston's game at Washington was postponed because of rain.

The Chicago White Sox, 15 games behind New York, broke a second-place tie with Boston by defeating Cleveland 4-1 and Detroit ousted Kansas City 7-6 in the other As games.

In the National League, Pittsburgh took second place and trimmed Milwaukee's lead to five games by beating the Braves 10-0 behind rookie George Witt's two-hit pitching. St. Louis defeated San Francisco 7-3, Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 12-4 and the Chicago Cubs rapped Los Angeles 9-3.

Mantle, on a batting surge that has pushed his average to .308, had three hits. His homer, a solo shot deep into the left field stands at Yankee Stadium, gave the Yanks a 4-0 lead in the fifth. It came off lefty Ken Lehman and was his sixth off Oriole pitching.

Gil McDougald also homered for the Yanks, while Bob Nieman hit his 12th for the Birds, a two-run blow that junked Tom Sturdivant's shutout bid in the seventh. Sturdivant (2-5) won his first since April 22, but needed Virgil Trucks' relief help in the eighth. Hec Brown (4-3) lost it.

Early Wynn (10-12) won his third in a row over his former Indian mates while Jim Landis drove in three runs for the White Sox. Minnie Minoza gave the Tribe a 1-1 tie with his 17th home run in the second inning, but the Sox bagged it with a sixth-inning run on Ron Jackson's sacrifice fly for their eighth success in 10 games.

Jim Grant (9-9) was the loser. The Tigers twice came from behind against the A's and finally nailed it on Gail Harris' two-run 12th homer in the seventh off losing reliever Dick Tomanek. Al Kaline ended an 0-for-16 slump with a double ahead of the winning blow. Tom Morgan won it in relief.

New Cars To Be Featured At Canfield

The MARC new-cars (1957-1958 models) return to action at the Canfield Speedway Saturday night. This five-event program of new cars will be topped with a 100-lap feature event. Along with the new cars, the foreign sports cars will compete in a 20-lap feature event, making a total of 6 events.

This will be the last program before the Canfield Fair.

All of the outstanding drivers in the MARC circuit will be on hand to compete as they are all battling for points as they go into the last half of the 1958 season. All want the largest share of the Point Fund which will be divided among the leaders.

Currently, Bob James and Nelson Stacey are favored to win in the 1958 MARC new-car crown. James has scored two victories at Canfield this season. He won the opening race on April 26 and the July 4 event.

Other stars scheduled to compete are Darrell Derringer, recent winner at Dayton; Paul Wensink of Deshler who held the lead for a short time this season and Iggy Katona of Lambertville, Mich., three time MARC national champion.

A field of approximately 24 foreign sports cars will compete in a special 20-lap feature and will include a host of local talent. Among them are John Petrone of Youngstown in an Austin, Fred and John Leeson in specials and Ronald Alexander, James Torbro, Arrel Doane and Lou Englehardt, all Youngstowners in Triumphs.

In the 24-car field, there are 12 different makes of cars. Gates open at 6:30 p.m. Time trials are at 7 and the first event at 8:30 p.m.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

MUNICH — against the Communists in the chaotic days right after the war, have told their regional unions to promise full support to workers who refuse to build such ramps "on grounds of conscience."

There is precedent for such decisions. In the German iron and steel industries, there are powerful works councils in each plant generally dominated by the national union chiefs.

These councils are not part of the labor movement as we know it in the States. The unions here have only national and statewide outfits. They have no local unions.

In the iron and steel industries the councils and the regional union have the power to veto management decisions on the type of products which the firm decides to produce.

For instance, if a giant steel corporation, similar to U.S. Steel, wants to shift from making metal for turbines to hammering out plates for tanks, the union can refuse to work on the new produce.

THE DISPUTE then goes to a special "arbitration board," which generally is dominated by labor people. The board can then back up the union. If it does not, the union can still strike.

For example, there is an atomic reactor here in Munich. Its construction was delayed for months. The powerful metal and construction workers unions simply refused to work on the project. They were against it because they just don't want to recognize the atom.

Also they demanded laws with a complex series of safety regulations. They wanted the right to name the number of doctors, the areas in which persons could work

We, the people of the United States, are being betrayed by the very same socialist labor leaders whom we gave haven, food, clothing and jobs in our land during the Hitler regime and then helped revive their powerful organizations after the war.

These are the leaders of the DGB, the six-million-member German national labor federation. They are basically anti-United States and have told their construction trades unions not to supply workers for the building of launching ramps for short range guided missiles here.

These are the only land weapons the Russians respect today.

Yet the German union chiefs have made a political decision far beyond legitimate bounds of union activity.

German contractors here are ready to build the ramps for a special "arbitration board," which generally is dominated by labor people. The board can then back up the union. If it does not, the union can still strike.

For example, there is an atomic reactor here in Munich. Its construction was delayed for months. The powerful metal and construction workers unions simply refused to work on the project. They were against it because they just don't want to recognize the atom.

Also they demanded laws with a complex series of safety regulations. They wanted the right to name the number of doctors, the areas in which persons could work

KEEPING HER FIGURE IN WHISTLE SHAPE—It's this kind of exercise and sweat that keeps her figure trim, says actress Tina Louise, who believes in a daily gym workout. Shapely Tina says she's a new woman since she began the muscle-woman routine—no nervous tension, no fat, and better movie roles, too.

Others have been in West Berlin, here in Munich and in smaller West German communities.

One was in Frankfurt, where the Socialist government, dominated by the national union DGB chiefs, said that if German or American troops attempt to protect the area with atomic missiles, the city would cut off water and electric supplies.

Another area is Hamburg, the great port. There not too long ago the unions ordered hundreds of dockworkers off their jobs for an Atom Death rally.

The man who tried to whip them up in the harbor, through which U.S. forces get considerable supplies, was none other than the city's Mayor Max Brauer.

This socialist gent fled Hitler. He was received by American trade unionists. He was financed, fed and given a warm welcome for years. For many years he lived off the fat of our land. I bear personal witness to Max Brauer's comfort. Now I bear personal witness of his betrayal of his former friends.

But also I can attest to the fact that the German working people are not giving more than lip service and police hand clapping support to their socialist chiefs.

I guess all the fight has gone out of the comfortable German labor leaders.

ENGINEER NAMED

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Francis C. Gideon is returning to his home state with a star. It's the one-star rank of Air Force brigadier general, and the former Miami (Ohio) University student and native of Payne (Paulding County) reports to Wright-Patterson AFB near here Sept. 8 to become installations engineer at Air Materiel Command headquarters.

BUT THE LABOR chiefs hold the threat of a national strike over the government's troubled head. They have run demonstrations in many cities.

Some of these have been in the Ruhr, the Pittsburgh of Germany.

BOY KILLED BY AUTO

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joseph Frazier, 5, ran into the street near his home last Saturday and was struck by a car, causing injuries that were fatal at St. Mary Hospital Tuesday.
